PTO

Directions :

Public Transport

Take the London Underground, Northern Line (branch terminating at Edgware) to Hendon Central Station. Turn right from the Station up Watford Way (A41) and walk to the first set of traffic lights. Here, turn right into The Burroughs. Middlesex University Business School is on the left. It takes about 8 minutes to walk from the station the University.

Road

From the north, leave the M1 at Junction 2 for the A1, Great Northway. Turn right at the first traffic lights. This takes you into Parson St. Continue about  $\frac{1}{4}$  of a mile to the first set of traffic lights (Lloyds Bank is on the corner – shops etc.) and turn right into Church Road. Go straight on, up the hill. Church Road continues into The Burroughs. The University is at the top of the hill on the right, just as the road bends to the left. There is a single entrance to the staff car park, with iron gates, first right before the Main Building. Speak to reception at the barrier phone for entrance.

From the west, on the North Circular, turn left at the A41 North Circular roundabout/flyover onto Hendon Way travelling north. Pass the first set of traffic lights, with Hendon Central tube station on the right and continue up the hill to the next set of traffic lights and there turn right into the Burroughs. The Business School is on the left, after the second set of pedestrian traffic lights. The single entrance to the staff car park has iron gates and is the last turning on the main road at the end of the Main Building. Speak to reception at the barrier phone for entrance.
