

CALL FOR PAPERS

Second Conference on Developing Quantitative Marxism

16th-18th April 2009, Burwalls Hall, University of Bristol

Organised by Department of Economics, University of the West of England, Bristol and the Department of Economics, University of Bristol

Following last years successful inaugural conference, offers of papers are invited for a conference on developing quantitative and empirical Marxism.

Bringing together some of the researchers in the area might provide further momentum.

This new initiative will try to develop empirical Marxist analysis as an alternative perspective to the prevailing orthodoxy and try to create a coherent, influential and self sustaining research agenda.

Papers are invited on any Marxist economics topics that deal with empirical issues and/or use quantitative information and methods. The intention is not to debate the validity of the approach, but to use it to show the power and potential of Marxist analysis of capital. The areas covered in the 1991 book may well be revisited but it is also expected that the papers will develop a more comprehensive and contemporary research agenda.

Please send a title and abstract as soon as possible and before 9th February 2009 to:
Professor J Paul Dunne: Email: John2.Dunne@uwe.ac.uk

For details on the previous conference and to keep up with developments see:
<http://carecon.org.uk/QM/>